Intrudction

So this is an integral political safety analysis of how current situation and I have been able to observe in Stockholm since 2015-08-20. I have been a student of integral theory since the big first release of the Super Human OS, that not a product I could afford I had settle with YouTube and A brief history of everything. The reason why I came in contact with the work of Dr. Ken Wilber was a newsletter sent to me from Eben Pagan. I have been a student of System science and mainly focused on global analyses. This summer I was approached by Christian Blue meme's in Stockholm. What they could show me was mostly a problem concerning prostitution in Stockholm city, a lack of interest in the church from the younger. Now I come from a quite a turbulent background but with what I have learned and the gifts I have from birth I believe there at least should be some validity to what I have to write in this document. The drama playing out over the spiral is really mind boggling and scary especially from a Christian blue ethnocentric perspective.

Situation seen from the media as of gathered data since 2015-08-20

How I did see the situation before meeting the blue Christian ethnocentric. Now this was in the start of this period

While Putin tries to create havoc in Europe by supporting Assad government in its warfare and pushing even more refugees in to Europe and ISIS is spicing things up with their global terror. We also have to face that the Oceans are dying because of radioactive poisoning and oil poisoning.

The understanding I came from coming back from a period of being in a Blue meme ethnocentric paradigm this September, 2016. Still from a Christian perspective

When you understand how Christina Batra (orange meme) think and reason, and how the Löfven (green meme) are missing the point and SD (blue national ethnocentric meme) just see that Sweden sold out. Then it is the Christians who wonder where the love went. All this is done to Putin has a hybrid warfare against Sweden with the Russian crime syndicate. A large part of the problem is that it does not talk openly about the problem between sexes because of loyalty guys in between sisters in between. Christian was looking for was the love among Swedes in between. They find lots of brothel premises in Stockholm. Something I have seen on the streets of Stockholm, these came to be to protect prostitutes from being forced to take heroine, by the African street gangs. The brothels can't be the men in the top layer to see them go to strip clubs. Muslims are a more market driven economically it makes it more common for young Swedish girls go for the Muslims while young Swedish men in the lower economic layers go to SD or just choose to hate women instead rather of coming to church. Swedish young men are becoming more pro Russians. Muslims do not see any major problems. In it all looks Batra not so attractive out for Christians.

Orange Meme (Christina Batra)

Swedish men are not strong market force to drive the Swedish economy forward. The Muslims are a way stronger force being more focused on driving business. Seems like Swedish men are more interested in going to eat and buy pizza from the Muslims, then to work and drive business. Our girls should reward behavior that drives the Swedish economy forward. And if they marry a Muslim she will convert and become a virgin again. She will have had her fun. The Swedish men seem to hate women anyhow. The top layer of the business world will not change anyhow, at least not this generation. Plus the guys that keep the system we have in place get theirs to. (Price being a pair of shame cuffs.).

Green Meme (Social democratic, Stefan Löfven)

This point towards the social miss adjustment that pore and immigrants have to face when coming to Sweden we need better immigration politics and well fare on a European level it needs to be taken to the European Union level in order to be fixed. On the problem on how to fix that Swedish men have poor health and go to prostitutes that we have to be more far sighted with, school and education. Is what we need their Muslims are not the problem unless we talk about Muslim terrorist.

Blue Christian ethnocentric meme (The Christians)

So this is how it looks to the blue meme here in Sweden, it's entertaining in many ways. But this is real for them and it is needed to be understood that its very scary for them. I came from a Christian perspective (Paradigm) when this analysis was made and I had to take on their view to be able to understand what they are going thru. They came to me for answers and help as well. I was forced on their view of how the world looks.

The paradigm

I want you to know that I have studied the work of Dr. Ken Wilber and consciousness's is what I call soul to the left. I This seems to have come to me as a mission from god to shed light on a problem that is not visible on an orange or green meme level but you can see on blue meme level and first at a teal level it become visible again. You can see as read on you will have and understand how humans souls comes in the hands of the Devil. Fear and shame are the tools of the devil and it seems like the last battle is at hand.

Now to the top left here we have the pentagram representing a person free from the limitations of the mind. It has taken in the spirit of the lord and thus have the Devil (pain body, ref Eckhart Tolle) in the lake of fire sort of speak. Now the pain body (ref Eckhart Tolle) is functioning as The Devil on this earth so that is what I will call it here. As we go further down it will be a representation of how far from the light that person has strayed. The star without the encircling is a free human spirit still in close connection with the soul and disconnected from the mind, it can easy stray back to its old ways.

The pentagram being your average Joe or a person that has started to walk with Jesus and to follow his way is still in limitations of the mind, standing closer to Satan.

The inverted pentagram is a representation of a person who has made a barter with the devil to value something in the material real above his/hers soul, partially giving up the free will give by god to serve The devil as he comes.

The last one is a person lost in total to the devil, there is no free will only the doings of Satan that being creating pain for him/herself and for others in this world. That being the work of lost prophets singer, the black panther shooting and most recently the Indian man that raped a 11 month baby for two hours. The devil wants a system where he gets to control humanity; he wants to make earth his new hell.

How it looks to the Christian blue ethnocentric

Now this became personal since when I did the analysis I could not really break out of the paradigm. Me coming from a political family tied to the orange meme party of (Christina Batra) I have personal issues with them coming thru in the analysis.

This seems to be part of the real state politics where Christina Batra is trying to force Stockholm to become a right wing and stray from the church in the city (Stockholm). That together with this:

Näringsliv means business world but direct translation would be food life.

Näringsherarki means businesses hierarchy but directly it means food chain.

Swedish näringsliv is a Mycorrhiza (Fungi roots) of lies and shame holds and fear of the lies being discovered that hold the Swedish system. What was done when Puaya forced his dick in to my mouth (Rape) was to get a shame holds on me (personal insedent). They wanted to invite me in to their lair of lies. They see it as a näringshierarki with the lies told to cover it up they get trapped in a shame lock from covering up a shameful incident. I bit hard on his dick I was going to bite it off. Now each and every other person gets to do the same and with that get to climb in the order of career opportunities or paid off in bonuses. This is to protect the children of those highest up in the hierarchy, the modern princes. Thou see children don't get to develop any creativity they only get to choose between things, good things I might add. Since they don't get any creativity they don't get any dreams and no dreams from god either. But the get those fruit from others in the end they can get the fruit of pain to from stealing and destroying others dreams. Some get a guilty consciousness and that shame gets a hold of them to lies are told in either case. Both to protect those who feel pleasure from the pain they caused and the group who feel shame about it. Now if you do what your told to keep the Mycorrhiza in place you get rewarded with career opportunities involving bonuses. Some join with free will so good are the fruits but the cost it can't be worth it. Now since it is a tower built on fear who feeds on that fear at the top...

The ones keeping track of the lies is the ones getting off on others pain and suffering. They have textile cloths with strings attached loose for each and every lie. Now the one holding the textile cloth doesn't need to keep track of the lie it is as such. When the one whole got the stolen dream is to enjoy the stolen fruit the keeper of lies goes to the one stolen of the dream and tell him how they destroyed his/her chances of the dream and who at current enjoying the dream and also why it was made so. That makes the one be stolen remember the incident. An all the keeper of lies need to do is to keep track of the color coding of the treads on his/hers string cloth the one given and the one stolen tight tided together. I have seen two of these by the way.

Now Christina Batra have gone in bed with the Muslim brother hood since they are better business men then the Christian's. Muslims brother hood is a collective of Muslims that are trying to breed out Christianity out of Sweden they help each other business wise, pushing out newer businesses. The orange meme only focused on the economy; don't see that as a problem.

Now who would profit from this kind of system and how deep does this hierarchy or top?

How I tried to calm and give some understanding to blue meme (religious)

It seems from what we can see from above that the apostatic of humanity comes in these categories under the light of god's creation, Earth.

From the left to the right here, we have Big Good (BG), Small Good (SG), Half Good (HG), Small Evil (SE) and Big Evil (BG).

Now let's start with HG the center pies, the passive player in the hierarchy of what is written about above. Those who just reap the dreams of others without getting off on the pain they cause, but the one's entering this system created on forced will, can create dreams from creativity. Many times they are unaware of that pain. They can also be on the path of following the lord, many protestant Christian would fall under this category; these are the ones who has not taking a stand against good or evil. To the right of that we have SE small evil has taken a stand for evil these are the keepers of lies and also your common sadist they have become dependent on the system/society that the Devil has created. Now BE not even Satan likes since these never get to live that long. BE is limitless evil and Satan wants order in his tower of fear and pain it seems. Now small good is limitless good but have only tries to follow the lords Jesus Christ ways but as a servant of god or soldier they see the necessity to take lives for good to prevail. All they can hope for is god's forgiveness; these both can create their own dreams from creativity and get fruits (Dreams) from god. Now these are the ones at risk to fall quickly down the path of big evil. That comes from being limitless and not taking in god. Now there is BG big good has fully invited in the spirit of the Jesus Christ. These are faithful Christians, freemasons or you since you have come so far in this course. Now these men don't have dreams they get full fruit direct from god. That makes them a bigger target for the SE since the fruit seems sweeter. But much better warriors.

The Red meme

Now how I came in contact with the red memes or am in contact with them, will be explained when I tell more about my story and from what background I come from.

More and more street walking girls come to us for protection. They are whore's a young man sent them to us (being me out to do PUA finding prostitutes on the streets). At first it was just really attractive girls, much money in protecting these. We can do good for them and make an earning on it as well. Now the church sends a lot of girls that have no other choice to go to the street to sell their bodies. They need protection from the black street gangs from being forced to take heroin. We help them to, but they don't give as much money, we have been more effective there. At first it was just good for business. But now they are so many that we can't keep taking them in. Rival gangs have started to appear and new players are coming in. We might have to make a deal with the devil since they are in our neighborhood (Russian Crime syndicate).

The gender gap and economic gap side of the problem

Fertile grounds for misogyny and hatred for women.

So there is a culture of us guys (brothers) in between and us girls (sisters) in between that make it so this prostitution problem does not get the full visibility it should. There is an economic gap side to this problem too. Now young females seek out young Muslim boys since they are more aggressive in their approach of getting girls, then young Swedish boys. They are also more driven than the Swedish boys. This creates a lot of jealousy and anger it gets directed towards the girls or the Muslims. The boys get to hear stories of how girls only care about money or about the older guys going to prostitutes furthermore strengthening this belief. Girls get to hear stories from other girls of Swedish men going to prostitutes and more stories about rape, while getting hated on by Swedish men. They seek comfort and love from young Muslim boys instead, this gets encouraged by some of the adults, and it's good to seek out men that are driven. The richer men don't see this at all this because there are courses to take in learning on how to get women and many of the richer men rather go to strip clubs than seeking out cheap bordellos.

The fertile ground for criminality and pro Russians

Now it is really easy to blame Muslims and sitting government for this problem. That makes it so Russia Today with its pro Putin propaganda gets validity since they go against taking in refugees from the ISIS conflict.

Young men seek partnership with girls since that is an instinct ingrained in them to do and from the belief they come from money is what they need and path of criminality due to unemployment rates. Young men see money in criminality simply.

OR

They come from a place of negative emotions seeking themselves to blue nationalistic meme rather than the blue religious meme. Makes the younger men seek out the parties more prone to racism. This creates hostility towards any help given from other countries and gives a huge validity to the YouTube Media channel Russia today.

The Blue national ethnocentric meme, The Swedish Democratic Party (The powder keg)

These people's view I have not taken on all I have done is watched it from an outside perspective, that is because of personal issues with any party member and in fear of not being able to break out of that paradigm.

Now these have no love at all, here in Sweden they have roots from Nazism ideology. They have their own propaganda channel but are prone to look for a strong leader. They see war/violence as a solution to many of the problems and to take in refugees is out of the question. This is one of the fastest growing party of the population here in Sweden that gets to vote.

From what I can understand they look more for a strong leader to “clean” up Sweden from the problems that comes with criminality, heroin, refugees and the social inequality that is currently in Sweden. Now in a time of maybe 2 years from now it looks as there will be a divide here between pro Russians, nationalist and nazis in the coming future.

Conclusion

As it looks now in Sweden in current moment is stable on a national level, there is no big risk's of there being any big riot's or insurrection. Even Russia is showing a more aggressive stand against Sweden. Swede's are still loyal towards Sweden and not to Russia. But the hostility against NATO is still growing but is something that can change in the near coming future. But it seems like there is a clear integral factor here to Putin's Hybrid warfare strategy. Now there is the question if Putin know about the current “corrupt” of what lie's hidden in Swedish politics and class tension and uses them or if this is all just a coincidence. This still shows to a future where the tensions here in Sweden might grow with time and it would be really helpful if NATO moved in to the calm down the Baltic region.

End word

Well I am thankful for what I have learned from the Christians especially from what Jesus teaches, but shame on them to force me into having their paradigm.
